

Information about Family Editions of Fully Alive

In the spring of 2006, the Ontario Conference of Catholic Bishops (OCCB) decided to proceed with the creation of a 2nd edition of Fully Alive, the Family Life Education program sponsored by the OCCB. The original program, published between 1988 – 1992, consisted of three books for each grade — student, teacher, and family.

The new edition of Fully Alive also has these three components, but the family book is now available as an online family edition (www.acbo.on.ca). This change in the format of the family materials was made to ensure that parents had easy access to the content of the program at each grade level, and to provide families with helpful information and suggestions for enriching the topics at home.

By the end of 2009, the first six grades were published, and an online family edition for each of these grades is available on the ACBO site. Grades 7 and 8 of the program will also include online family editions and will be added to the ACBO site as these grades are published.

In the meantime, parents of students in Grades 7 and 8 who would like more information about Fully Alive should speak to their child's teacher or principal about getting a copy of the family book for the original edition of the program.
